

A Note from the Committee of Breeders

We hope that this newsletter finds all of you and your loved ones well and is something to enjoy in the midst of the uncertainty, grief and confusion during this pandemic. Tamaskan Dogs certainly have a way of distracting us from the world around us, with their mischievous antics and the constant cleanup of fur tumbleweeds this time of year. Sometimes, just running your fingers through a thick mane of fur is all it takes to bring solace during seasons of troubles. If you are one of the many who has found yourself with excessive free time, hopefully you have also found ways to incorporate some of that extra time with your fur-babies, whether that be an extra long walk, training a new trick, experimenting with a new training technique, or just a nice long nap (if your Tamaskan Dogs allow it)!

The Tamaskan Dog Register is excited about the new outcrosses, litter plans and announcements being made recently. The Committee of Breeders is also discussing different breeding plans and outcrosses per the request of the owners and interested parties, and are eager for what the year 2020 will bring in terms of even more genetic diversity available to breeders and new litters to announce. If you ever need a calculation run, or any suggestions on pairings, please contact us! We are here to help!

Remember, the Committee of Breeders still has room, and more knowledgeable voices and opinions are greatly appreciated. If you have interest in helping your registry by volunteering your time, please email us at cob@tamaskandogregister.com.

As always, enjoy the read and the pictures below, and let us know if there is something more that you would like to see in this newsletter in the future.

Tamaskan of the Month

White Elk Parhelion

"Raiden"

Saxon Aquila x White Elk Luchta

From his owner, "Raiden is an incredibly sweet and silly dog. He is a dog that loves his people dearly, but is also happy to find new cuddle buddies. Raiden is an amazing travel partner, ready to tackle whatever is thrown his way - whether it be hiking in the mountains, or working in a new city in a different country. While he is the first Tamaskan Dog to complete his Trick Dog Champion, he continues to enjoy learning new tricks from "Do More With Your Dog" trick list during his days off!

Please feel free to tag us on Instagram (@raidentheshero), or Raiden the Superhero on Facebook! "
